

Room 101 Homework For the week of: January 23

Monday- Tomorrow we will be making “snow people “in class. I am asking that every child brings in things to decorate their snow person. They will need something for the eyes, mouth, nose, things to decorate the body. These items will need to be glued or taped on their snow person. In the past children have brought in cereal, popcorn seeds, buttons, stickers, yarn, ribbon, sequins, noodles, dried beans, marshmallows, spoons to be used for arms.

Tuesday – Tomorrow we will be created the third of our season murals. Please help your child draw or find two pictures in a magazine or they can bring in photographs that show signs of winter. Be sure that they can tell the class in a complete sentence why they chose the pictures they brought. These pictures will not be returned. These pictures can deal with any of the following: weather, holidays, sports.

Wednesday- On Monday we began a unit on addition. Please play the game and read the letter that was sent home today which helps to introduce this concept.

Thursday- Please help your child complete the activities in the reading booklet that was sent home today. Also have them read the book that was sent home today. These things do not need to be returned.

I am looking for three volunteers to help with our class store this Thursday, January 26 at 12:30. If you can help please let me know by tomorrow.

Tomorrow report cards will be sent home in your child’s old homework folders. In this folder will be papers that I used to complete their report cards. I have also included a paper on math skills that are not included on our report cards. Most of these skills will be continued in the next two quarters. So they do NOT need to be mastered at this time but by the end of the year.
