

Parish Vocation Committee

The mission statement of the parish vocation committee is: “The Second Vatican Council recommended all parish communities for further vocation awareness in their parishes. We cannot create a ‘vocation’; only God can do that. However, a few hardworking parishioners can, through well planned programs make the whole community more ‘vocation conscious.’” This spells out the purpose of what members of the Parish Vocation Committee will do-foster an awareness of vocations in our parishes. We are looking for a few people who share this desire to bring awareness of vocations to their own parish.

Responsibilities of a Parish Vocation Committee Member

To pray daily for increased vocations

To become aware of the various ministries of the Catholic Church, particularly the priesthood and religious life.

To offer support and encouragement to priests and religious within the parish.

To provide examples through personal Christian family life as a means of encouraging vocations.

To accept and carry out assigned tasks and to report on the progress of this assigned work. Tasks could include working with other parish committees.

Yes, I am interested in fostering an awareness of vocations and would like to serve on the Parish Vocation Committee.
